

Give Thanks to Our Staff

Employee Gift Fund

submitted by the Employee Gift Committee

Each year, we show appreciation to our Meadowlark staff for their hard work, dedication to our residents, and commitment to making Meadowlark the best retirement community in the area. The employees at Meadowlark are key to the comfort, happiness, and good health that we as Meadowlark residents enjoy.

This November, Meadowlark residents will reward the staff with a monetary gift to express our appreciation and thanks. Because of Meadowlark's no-tipping policy, this is the best way we can reward them. Residents have received a letter in the mail requesting support toward the annual Employee Gift Fund. We ask that you consider giving and being as generous as possible.

We are fortunate to have the best staff here at Meadowlark, and we want to retain them. We can do that through "giving the best to keep the best."

Holiday Getaway

Seasonal attractions await Meadowlark Travelers

by Becky Fitzgerald

Celebrate the Christmas season with Meadowlark Travelers! A six-day getaway is planned for Monday, Dec. 4, through Saturday, Dec. 9; Meadowlark residents, Passport members, and friends or family members are invited. Our deluxe motorcoach will roll east into Missouri and then continue into Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Kentucky, stopping at a variety of attractions, most with Christmas-themed events or displays that we're sure to enjoy.

Just a few hours from home, we'll meet the Budweiser Clydesdales at their ranch near Boonville, Mo. In Cincinnati, Ohio, model trains and countless poinsettias will vie for our attention at Krohn Conservatory prior to a relaxing lunch cruise on a Queen City riverboat.

In Kentucky, ChristmasTown is a seasonal addition to the numerous exhibits at Creation Museum, where guests may venture through biblical history, botanical gardens, a planetarium, and zoo. A new exhibit, Borderland: Israel in the Time of Jesus, was designed to put the New Testament in context, according to the museum's website.

At nearby Ark Encounter, we'll enter a structure built according to dimensions given in the Bible and stroll past exhibits created to prompt interest and wonder about Noah's possible experiences aboard the ark.

Care has been taken with selecting our lodging along the way, but our stay at The Seelbach Hilton in Louisville is sure to be Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 2 p.m.

Interested in joining the writing group at Meadowlark? Prairie Star Writers invites you to attend the next meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, in the Patriot Room.

EVENTS & OPPORTUNITIES

The Sept. 19 session is titled “My Favorite Season.” As we shift toward fall after a brutal summer, it’s not hard to stay in our well-tempered homes. But, what other natural joys will we miss? How about the scents and feel of the air? We’ll take time to describe our favorite season. Writers is led by Cathy Hedge. The group meets on the first and third Tuesdays.

Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 11:30 a.m.

Special Programs continues to work with Resident Services Leader Monte Spiller to facilitate the Page Turners Book Club. We encourage any and all to participate in this gathering to socialize, engage, and discuss a popular book that became a movie. The group is now reading Tuesdays With Morrie by Mitch Albom and will meet at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 20, in the Patriot Room. We will be discussing differences between the book and the movie. The movie Tuesdays With Morrie will be showing in the Grosh Cinema on Tuesday, Sept. 19. Participants do not have to attend each week to participate; come when you are able, whether you have finished the book, are just beginning, or only saw the movie! Come enjoy the discussion and a themed snack!

The next book the group will be reading is Death on the Nile by Agatha Christie. If you have any questions or need help obtaining a copy of the book, contact Katie via e-mail at ksigman@meadowlark.org or by phone at (785) 323-3899. Discussions of this book will begin on Oct. 4.

Artist Discussion with the Beach

Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 4 p.m.

Join Kim Richards from Beach Museum of Art for “Birger Sandzén: The Professor Painter” at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 20, in the Bison Room. Sandzén taught art for more than five decades in Lindsborg, Kan. He also was a painter, printmaker, speaker, and champion of art for everyone. We will explore the development of his identifiable style as well as his passion to share art with all.

Veterans Meet Lou

by Joan Jones

During the summer of 1964, I joined the US Army as a Women's Army Corps, enlisting as a nurse to help pay for my last year at University of North Carolina School of Nursing.

I graduated in 1965 with a Second Lieutenant commission. After Basic Training at Fort Sam Houston, I remained in San Antonio at the Brook Army Medical Center for almost a year before receiving orders for Vietnam. In August 1966, I departed San Francisco with the other doctors and nurses tasked with the assignment of setting up a new hospital, primarily neurosurgical, the 24th Evac Hospital, in Long Binh, Vietnam. This was fairly early in the war, before the major TET offensive in February 1968. We all worked hard and played hard.

The experience was most rewarding to me as a person and a nurse. I was discharged at Fort Dix, N.J. and returned home to a welcoming family. After four months, I realized that I did enjoy military nursing so returned to be stationed in Fort Eustis, Va.; Brook Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston; and the 97th General Hospital, Frankfurt, Germany. Skip and I met there, and we both resigned from the Army and married in 1971.

After returning from Vietnam, rarely was a word spoken about my experiences. I decided it was safer not to discuss them. I kept a box and scrapbook of pictures and memorabilia, which I still have. Vietnam was never a socially acceptable topic. I did maintain contact with two nurses from the 24th until their early deaths. Many people learned that I am a veteran; few knew where I had served.

Fast forward to August 2023 at Meadowlark.

I have been home from Vietnam for 56 years. I read in the Meadowlark Messenger that a former Army Nurse who had been in Vietnam was coming to Meadowlark to speak at our special weekend for those with Parkinson's disease. I suddenly realized

I had never before met another nurse who had been in Vietnam. I wanted to meet Lou Eisenbrandt. Thursday evening, Aug. 24, in our Bison Room was my opportunity.

I listened with great attention to Lou's presentation as she described her/my hospital and our caring for US Military patients and Vietnamese civilians. Memories flooded back, so that when I was able to introduce myself and to tell her that I was attending just to meet her and that I was privileged to do so, the emotions took over; I was in tears. Lou came to me to hug me, and I was at peace [pictured above].

The evening continued with other Veterans telling their stories. I was so proud of all of us. The evening was both enjoyable and cathartic for me. I thank Michelle Haub, Special Programs Leader, for inviting Lou as our special speaker and placing her in a position to help me unlock many memories. I am certain Lou spoke to others in her audiences Thursday and Friday nights and touched each one in the way he/she needed to be touched. I am certain God is using her to help all with whom she comes into contact.

memorable. Appearing on the National Register of Historical Places, The Seelbach, built in 1905, has hosted nine U.S. presidents and many celebrities. Its grand ambiance inspired author F. Scott Fitzgerald to use The Seelbach as a backdrop for Tom and Daisy Buchanan's wedding in The Great Gatsby. After we check in, a dinner buffet in a private room is on the itinerary.

With Kentucky in our rearview, we travel once again into Indiana and spend a few hours at Santa Claus, known as America's Christmas hometown. Photo opportunities are numerous at the museum & village, and if your Christmas shopping isn't complete, it's likely you'll find something to purchase for that special someone.

Meadowlark Travelers trips are designed to accommodate retirees of various ages and physical abilities. We strive for a leisurely pace, but opportunities can be found for those who are more physically active. Assistive devices are welcome.

Monte Spiller, Resident Services Leader, and Becky Fitzgerald, Development Director, are slated to be escorts for this adventure. Fees (see below) include: transportation by Arrow Stage Lines, five nights lodging, luggage service, five breakfasts, three dinners, two lunches, two Happy Hours with food and beverages, and eight attractions.

The current rate for double occupancy is $1885.00 per person; a single traveler pays $2410.00. Rates for triple and quad occupancy also are available. These published rates apply with a minimum of 25 paying travelers; rates could decrease if more than 25 paying travelers participate. A deposit of $150 is due with your registration form, which is available at the Hospitality Desk or by contacting Monte Spiller.

Questions? Call Monte at (785) 323-3801, or Becky at (785) 323-3843.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Congratulations to September's Employee of the Month, Elizabeth Satchel, a Homemaker in Collins and Stolzer House! Elizabeth exemplifies the mission and values of Meadowlark each day. She prioritizes the residents and ensures their preferences are honored. Elizabeth has been integral in training and supporting new team members. Her positive attitude is contagious, and we are blessed to have her as an advocate in Special Care. We are so happy to have Elizabeth as a part of the Meadowlark team!

Art Engagement from the Beach Museum of Art

Unity in an artwork is achieved when the artist has an ideal amount of harmony present with an ideal amount of contrast. The harmony may be represented with similar objects, shapes, or colors. Contrast might be introduced by adding dissimilar objects, varying values, or warm and cool colors to a composition. To achieve unity, the artist wants to create variety with contrast without interrupting harmony. One way to create unity with color is to ensure the colors are distributed throughout the artwork. As you look at this screen print, take note at how the artist has placed blue, for example, and then echoed it in the rest of the composition. Find another color and follow it around the scene.
